

Audrey R. Goodman
Executive Development Consultant
WOMEN Unlimited, Inc.

Audrey Goodman is the Principal, in Audrey R. Goodman Consulting, a leadership development consulting practice, specializing in Executive Coaching, Talent Management and Leadership Development. Prior to establishing a consulting practice, Audrey spent 22 years as VP, Organization Development at Medco where she was responsible for enterprise-wide leadership development, talent management, performance management, executive and high potential development, executive coaching, employee surveys, and organizational and cultural change initiatives. She designed and developed the leadership development framework to support the rollout of a new talent management and succession planning process for her organization. In support of talent management initiatives, she built a core curriculum, using a blended and multiphase approach to support ongoing development. Audrey was a driving force for Medco's key diversity and women's development programs and networks, including coaching, mentoring, and leadership opportunities.

Audrey was a member of The Conference Board's Council on Learning, Development and Organizational Performance and is currently the board president of The Center for Modern Dance Education. She is a graduate of Binghamton University and holds masters degrees from Brown University and Teacher's College, Columbia University.
