

Charissa Gant | IMpower Program Manager

Charissa is Founder and President of Gant Communications and Consulting. With over 25 years experience leading teams through change as a Change Management practitioner certified in ADKAR, she is passionate about helping individuals and teams evolve and adapt. With over 20 years at Cisco Systems building and leading internal communication teams and almost 5 years as a consultant across Silicon Valley, Charissa brings a wide-breathe of knowledge about many of the Bay Area's Fortune 500 companies.

She is in alumna of the WOMEN Unlimited LEAD Program and believes this program changed the course of her life. She has been a panelist and Mentor for IMpower and LEAD for several years. Charissa believes too often women underestimate their value and their voice. The WOMEN Unlimited program helps them uncover both – and she wants to be part of the journey.
