

Mary Puncochar
US Country Head
Ascensia Diabetes Care

Mary is the US Country Head, for Ascensia Diabetes Care. She's been with the organization since 2004. She has taken on many roles in sales, marketing, training, managed care, strategic contracting, digital and analytics. She currently is responsible for the US Commercial team that includes managed care, multi-channel, trade, strategic contracting, analytics, digital and transformation teams.

Ascensia, formerly the diabetes care division of Bayer AG, makes the world-renowned CONTOUR® blood glucose monitoring systems, and is committed to adding more innovative and life-changing products to its portfolio.

Prior to joining Ascensia, Mary spent years leading health care teams in pharmacy benefit management, oncology, homecare, multi-specialty clinics and corporate health. She is known for being a passionate leader who creates a collaborative environment, so individuals, ideas and executions thrive.

Mary graduated from the University of Minnesota with a BS in Nursing. She lives in St Paul, MN, with her husband. She has two children that also pursue careers in healthcare. In her free time, one can usually find her volunteering with non-profits that focus on the homeless, hiking or doing yoga.
