

Perhaps the first thing came to our mind as a group when the program shifted its methodology to online, that it would be a tedious program which loaded us with more tasks as employees in UNDP, but the design of the program make it encouraging to think deeply, discover self-confidence and building it. This initiative, which has developed into such a program, is one of its kind in the world that has innovative approach in empowering women and supporting their willingness to lead and to contribute in enhancing their organization and societies they serve.

Now let's share with you what had this program contributed to :

Networking

Not only by the small group and the participants from various offices, but we got inspired by new methodologies in building our networks and its sustainability (other colleagues, interviews of leaders, mentors).

Inspiration

by sharing lessons and experiences from colleagues , guests ,mentors

Teamwork

Highlighted the teamwork and the importance of working within the team is critical with all the challenges that we all facing

Communication Skills

Boost our communication skills at all levels and times, in addition to developing our own skills by individual exercises

Mentorship

Provided us with a unique opportunity to benefit from a mentors all their rich experiences
