

“A View From the Top”

QUESTIONS / ISSUES

- What has been the best decision you ever made regarding your career? What was the worst?
- What do you think are the key attributes of becoming a successful woman leader?
- What has been your experience in gaining visibility and recognition?
- How do you balance the demands of a senior management position with a personal life?
- How have you handled not being included in meeting or events that your male colleagues have excluded you from?
- What advice do you have regarding men and women colleagues socializing?
- How do you dispel the “rumor mill”?
- What about handling the issue of being perceived as “too pushy” by both men and women?
- Why do more women prefer male bosses as studies indicate?
- Who taught you about power? How did this impact your ability to be effective in your organization?
- Being an effective leader, in part, means being able to take intelligent risks. How did you learn/become effective at evaluating and then taking risks?
- How do you promote your accomplishments? How did you get comfortable about doing this?
- In the midst of these turbulent times, how do you continue to lead effectively and maintain a focused workforce? What are your key leadership lessons?